

Letter from Alexander Graham Bell to Mabel Hubbard Bell, June 14, 1898, with transcript

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL TO MABEL (Hubbard) BELL Beinn Bhreagh, C. B.
Tuesday, June 14, 1898. At B.B. Hall. Journal

Telegram received saying that Red Cross had gone without Daisy and that Mrs. Kennan will be here on Tuesday.

Letter dated Friday, June 10th, received — scolding me for not replying at once to three telegrams — that were delayed in transmission by break-down of wires. Telegrams were sent by steamer from Grand Narrows — and reply had to be sent via steam-boat to Grand Narrows involving loss of another day. No delay in replying. The delay was in transmission.
